

N.Y. Subway Tieup Grows Ike Back In Capital For Checkup Today

Paris Parley Trip Hinges On Outcome

Hagerty Says He Expect Decision
This Afternoon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower, after a weekend at his farm, returned to the White House today for a medical checkup tomorrow on the extent of his recovery from a slight stroke 14 days ago.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower drove from Gettysburg, Pa., in the rain. In a car behind them were Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician, and Mrs. Snyder.

The examinations and consultations of a team of medical experts will provide the basis of a decision as to whether Eisenhower will be able to attend the NATO summit meeting which opens next Monday in Paris.

President Feels "Okay"

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, was asked at a news conference late today if the President would decide tomorrow whether he would go to Paris.

"I would think so," he replied.

Hagerty also was asked whether Eisenhower himself would make the decision or permit his doctors to do the deciding.

"The President will announce one way or another whether he will head the delegation or whether he won't," Hagerty replied.

Earlier in Gettysburg, Hagerty said Eisenhower tells him he feels "okay." And the press secretary bristled sarcastically at an opinion that the President may not be as well as news reports have depicted him.

Mamie Buys Postcards

Hagerty spoke out at a news conference while Eisenhower was packing up to motor back to Washington after a long, relaxing weekend at his country estate overlooking Gettysburg's historic Civil War battlefield. Mrs. Eisenhower was in town shopping—not for Christmas presents, but for postcards.

The First Lady dropped in at a gift shop and handed over $3.09, including tax, for 72 bright-hued cards showing the stone and white brick Eisenhower house, with a picture of herself and her husband superimposed in one corner.

Rogers Favors Cooloff Period On Rights Bills

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—William P. Rogers, the new attorney general, today proposed a sort of "cooling off period" in the field of civil rights legislation.

The 44-year-old Justice Department chief, holding his first news conference as attorney general, said he has no plan for recommending that the President submit any new civil rights proposals at the next session of Congress.

Rogers said civil rights were "fully debated" at the last session, with resultant adoption of the first new laws in this field since Reconstruction days. He expressed the view the public interest would not be served by "another debate of that kind this session."

Reporters noted that the new civil rights law, principally designed to protect voting rights, is a somewhat watered-down version of the administration's original proposals. In this connection, Rogers said that if Congress asked the department about deleted sections he would say the department still endorsed them—"but I will not resubmit them."

"Let's let a little time elapse and see how the new law works," he said.

AFL-CIO Votes To Oust Bakers

Lines Are Long And So Is Wait

Bronx, Westchester and Connecticut-bound commuters jam the lower level of Grand Central Terminal in Manhattan in an effort to make trips home during a strike which severely crippled the New York City subway system yesterday. The added jam in the normally-busy terminal was caused by regular subway riders seeking alternate routes to upper Manhattan, the Bronx and lower suburban Westchester County towns.

Witness Links Loss Of Job To Charges Against Teamster

Declined To "Help" Nashville Mayor

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—A man who was punched on the nose by a Teamsters Union official testified today he was asked to drop assault charges to "help" Mayor Ben West of Nashville, Tenn.

Kenneth Whitley swore before the Senate Rackets Committee that City Atty. Robert Jennings called him into his office the day before trial of the assault case against Perry Cannady, a business agent of Teamsters Local 327 in Nashville.

Whitley said Jennings told him "I could help the man across the hall if I'd drop the case."

When asked who the man across the hall was, the witness replied "Mayor West."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), committee chairman, inquired how it would have helped the mayor to have the case dropped. Whitley said Jennings told him the mayor "had a lot of pressure on him."

Whitley testified he insisted on going ahead with the prosecution in December 1954, that Cannady was fined and three months later Whitley was fired from his job on the City Planning Commission.

"I was never told my work was bad," Whitley said. "The only thing I can see is because I prosecuted Perry Cannady."

The Senate group is conducting an investigation of labor violence in Southern cities.

Joseph Katz of Atlanta, president of Terminal Transport Co., acknowledged to the senators that he asked one of his employees to drop charges of assault with intent to kill against another Teamster official after being requested to do so by union bosses.

State Wiretap Evidence Unusable In U.S. Courts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that state-obtained wiretap evidence cannot be used in federal court trials.

The fact that state enforcement officers get the wiretap evidence without participation of federal authorities makes no difference. It's still inadmissible.

While the decision directly involved another person, it indirectly affects James R. Hoffa, president-elect of the Teamsters Union.

The decision today overruled a ruling by the U.S. Court of Appeals in New York. The appellate court held that state-obtained wiretap evidence was admissible in federal court, if obtained without the connivance of federal agents and even though obtaining it violated the Federal Communications Act ban on wiretapping.

Frank Violated Foreign Agent Act, Jury Rules

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—John Frank was convicted tonight of acting illegally as an agent of the Dominican Republic and Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo.

A jury in Federal District Court returned its verdict after having the case since last Wednesday. It spent about 19 hours in actual deliberations.

Last Friday the jury reported there was no possibility of reaching a verdict but was sent back.

Frank, 42, a Washington attorney and former FBI agent, was found guilty on all four counts of the incident.

The allegations are that he served as an agent of the Dominican Republic and Trujillo while wilfully failing to register with the Justice Department under the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

Robert McDowell, a Nashville contractor, testified $100,000 worth of his equipment was dynamited on Labor Day 1953 after he had refused to sign a contract with the Teamsters Union. He said that as far as he knew no arrests were ever made in the case.

20 Die When Italian Train Strikes Truck

MILAN, Italy, Dec. 9 (AP)—A passenger train speeding a mile a minute collided with a truck at a crossing 40 miles south of here tonight, bringing death to about 20 persons.

The train, the Milan-to-Rome evening "Rapido," shot off the track in the accident, near the railway station at Codogno.

Railway officials in Rome said they had been informed by Codogno police that in addition to about 20 dead there were about 40 injured, many seriously.

At least two coaches overturned.

"We feel there are substantial questions of law which we will raise at the proper time," Carey said.

Frank had no comment, telling reporters that Carey spoke for him.

Frank was indicted last May by a grand jury investigating the disappearance of Jesus Maria de Galindez and Gerald L. Murphy.

Galindez, bitter critic of Trujillo, disappeared March 12, 1956 after leaving a class at Columbia University in New York City where he taught.

Murphy, a flier from Eugene, Ore., vanished in the Dominican Republic Dec. 3, 1956. Some reports said he had boasted of knowledge concerning the circumstances of De Galindez' disappearance.

Administration Asks Trade Act Extension

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (P)—The administration today urged a five-year renewal of President Eisenhower's authority to cut tariffs and make foreign trade agreements, saying this is a vital tool in the economic cold war with Russia.

In an apparent bid for wide publicity, the State and Commerce departments joined in publishing news releases detailing what Secretary of Commerce Weeks called "a new, realistic, workable trade program."

The State Department then went further. Its deputy undersecretary in charge of economic affairs, Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon, held a briefing for newsmen.

Officials said it all added up to determination by the Eisenhower administration to press for congressional approval of one of the three cornerstones of its foreign economic policy in the face of Russia's new economic activity.

Court To Hear Potomac River Dispute Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (P)—A large number of opinions and orders today prevented the Supreme Court from hearing oral arguments in a dispute between Maryland and Virginia over use of the Potomac River.

The arguments were put over until tomorrow afternoon.

Virginia is seeking permission to sue Maryland in the controversy which grew out of Maryland's action in repealing this year the historic Potomac River Compact of 1785.

Maryland opposes the Virginia move and contends the Supreme Court should keep hands off.

The court's decision on the Virginia petition will determine whether the dispute will come before the court for final settlement.

Maryland's General Assembly, in repealing the 172-year-old compact, passed new laws requiring Virginians to buy Maryland fishing licenses.

Maryland contends the General Assembly had the right to pass such laws regulating fishing in the Potomac which is owned by Maryland to the low water mark on the Virginia shore.

Virginia argues that the new Maryland laws are an attempt to take from Virginia as a sovereign state all rights and authority to regulate fishing in the river as previously provided in the two-state agreement.

Godfrey's Daughter Hurt In Car Crash

LEESBURG, Va., Dec. 9 (P)—Patty Godfrey, 15-year-old daughter of Arthur Godfrey, is in Loudoun County Hospital with injuries suffered in an auto accident.

The daughter of the radio and television performer received a broken shoulder and scalp and finger cuts in a two-car collision Saturday a mile from the Godfrey farm here.

Louisville Bank Robbed Of $68,800

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 9 (P)—Two masked gunmen robbed a branch of the Citizens Fidelity Bank & Trust Co. today of $68,800 in cash, the largest haul here in recent history.

The FBI said the loot in both cash and checks totaled $95,636 and added that the count was not complete.

The gunmen forced 16 employees and five customers to the wall and then made off with more than 22 night depository bags loaded with coins, bills, and checks.

Ray Faisst, special agent in charge of the FBI here, said some merchants had yet to account for amounts contained in their night deposit bags.

Ike Press Escort Involved In Crash

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (P)—The White House said today that for safety's sake it may become necessary to limit the number of newsmen's automobiles in presidential motorcades.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the statement after reporters escorting President Eisenhower back to the White House from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, had been involved in three traffic incidents. None of them had anything to do with Eisenhower's own limousine.

In one of the episodes, a car carrying four reporters was hit from behind, while it was at a standstill, by an auto driven by a Secret Service agent. The newsmen's car was four behind Eisenhower's.

Six English Collegians Rescued From Cavern

KETTLEWELL, England, Dec. 9 (P)—Six college students, including two girls sobbing with fear and exhaustion, were hauled inch by inch to safety through a maze of underground tunnels today from a flooded cavern 400 feet beneath the Yorkshire moors.

All were guided through narrow, twisting passages into the fresh air of the open moorland after a grim ordeal on a ledge in the cave since Saturday with scant light and hardly any food.

Peter Clough, 18, was the first to be rescued. The two girls—Joan Smith, 19,

U.S., Britain Near Missile Base Accord

LONDON, Dec. 9 (P)—The United States and Britain tonight were reported near a new pact to locate at least four American medium-range rocket bases in Britain.

There were signs that the arrangements may be challenged by the French, who were reported suspicious that Washington and London might seek to dominate NATO.

A British Defense Ministry spokesman said a British-American accord on the missile bases is almost complete after months of negotiations.

The British statement was made after U.S. Secretary of Defense McElroy ended a round of talks with Prime Minister Macmillan, Defense Minister Duncan Sandys and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

American informants insisted, however, that McElroy's talks ranged over general problems of Allied defense, rather than specific British-American questions.

Court Requested To Halt Harassment Of Negroes

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 9 (P)—The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania asked Bucks County Common Pleas Court today to grant a permanent injunction against eight Levittown residents to prevent their harassing of the only Negro family now residing in that community of 60,000.

Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride personally handled the case before Judge Edwin M. Satterthwaite to stop efforts of eight persons to drive out William J. Myers Jr., his wife and three children from the home they purchased last August.

Mrs. Myers, the first witness, testified that among the annoying practices were:

Motorcycles passed in front of her home sounding horns, while occupants of the cars sang "Old

Black Joe," "Dixie," "Old Man River," firecrackers were set off at night, several defendants took possession of an adjoining house for a brief period from which they played continuous loud music; others shouted insults as they passed her home; she received threatening telephone calls and mail; a cross was burned on the lawn next door; a "KKK" sign was painted on the wall of a neighboring house.

Defendants in the injunction proceeding—already restrained preliminarily by Judge Satterthwaite on Oct. 23—are Eldred Williams, James E. Newell, Howard M. Bentcliff, Agnes Bentcliff, his wife; John R. Bentley, David L. Heller, John T. Piechowski and Mrs. John Barbazon.

Grand Jury Praises
Baltimore Police Dept.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (P)—The Baltimore Grand Jury concluded its probe of the Police Department with a report praising the "vast majority" of the force which it says deserves "public gratitude and sincere support."

The report praising the department said irregularities have been confined to a tiny section of the police force.

In another interim report, the jurors said illegal wiretapping by police has occurred. But public policy as to secrecy of wiretapping and protection of innocent parties makes it undesirable to bring prosecutions that would violate such secrecy.

City Votes C&A Franchise With Long Opposed

A 25-year franchise for the C&A Gas Company which provides payment of $3,500 annually to the City was approved yesterday by the Mayor and Council.

The vote was 4-1 with Finance Commissioner John J. Long dissenting. Long's exception came as a result of a so-called "credit clause" in the franchise which provides that should future events call for additional taxes against the company over and above real and personal such as on gross sales, the $3,500 would be credited against the total figure.

Long also contended that the city could not foresee the future, that gas rates are going up and pointed out that 60 per cent of tax income comes from property owners. He said there is state legislation needed to provide taxation income other than that from property.

James Alfred Avirett, attorney representing the company, said the franchise means payment to the city over the 25-year period of more than $90,000. The amount in the franchise will total $87,500 over that span. In addition, he said, the company is writing off $3,500 in unpaid bills for gas and street work.

Long questioned why the company wanted a franchise when it did not need it and the company's "take it or leave it" attitude.

City Attorney Thomas B. Finan explained that C&A is part of the Columbia Gas System, that its stock is sold on the stock exchange and a franchise is of value in such an instance from the psychological standpoint of competition.

Police said only little damage was caused to the rig, and noted that nothing was traveling in the opposite lanes at the time. Police said this strip of the turnpike is usually heavy with traffic.

Long said that was a sufficient answer but he wanted it in the record.

The old franchise would have run until 1960 but the one approved yesterday goes into effect immediately.

Under the old franchise, the city received free gas estimated at about $2,400 a year for April to November period, although it was not stated in the pact.

The company is attempting to get rid of all its "free gas" arrangements.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz said he wanted it emphasized that the city paid for its gas during the "cold months" from November to April. He said he did not think the amount of gas used in non-heating months even with the gas rate increase will amount to the $1,100 difference between free gas under the old franchise and the new amount of $3,500.

Parking To Be Banned On Part Of Industrial Route

The Mayor and Council yesterday approved a resolution which will prohibit parking on the left hand sides of the dual lane Industrial Boulevard segment of the Cumberland Thruway project.

Approval of the request from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads will enable the State Roads Commission to advertise for bids on the Boulevard (Line C) segment today, City Hall sources said.

Originally, the SRC had planned to advertise last Tuesday but the federal bureau insisted upon the city's agreement to the parking ban.

The ban on left side parking will include the boulevard area between the city line at Evitts Creek (Oldtown Road) to where it will merge with the intersection of Williams and South Mechanic streets.

The boulevard will have two, one-way dual lane highways going in and out of the city. Each lane will be 34 feet except an area on Laing from Seymour to Virginia Avenue which will be 27 feet.

Action on the resolution was unanimous and Mayor Eves signed the document and for-

Building To Make Way For Thruway

The State Roads Commission plans to remove the first of the downtown properties that will be in the path of the crosstown expressway section of the Cumberland Thruway.

The SRC has up for sale the Southern States Cumberland Cooperative, Inc., building at 300 South George Street.

The successful bidder when sealed bids are opened Tuesday, December 17, at the SRC main office in Baltimore will be required to move the building by midnight, Saturday, January 25.

G. Bates Chaires, district engineer for the roads department, said details, forms and special bidding envelopes may be obtained at the district office, Braddock Road.

The building contains considerable framing material that can be salvaged, he pointed out.

The structure measures 80 feet by 42 feet and consists of metal on wood frame. Attached is a 16.5-foot by 30-foot concrete block office.

Earlier this year, property on the eastern end of the thruway on East Side belonging to the Hout Construction Company was purchased.

The design for the thruway is progressing in the offices of Green Associates, Baltimore engineering firm that has the contract for making the plans, Chaires said.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 9 (INS)—I know one thing for sure—I'm going to read "The Immortal," Walter Ross's book which was bought by Benny Thau for MGM a few days ago. Simon and Schuster, the publishers, believe it's going to be one of the big sellers next year.

Benny bought it from the manuscript through Irving Lazar, and the story is that of a famous stage actor who is educated in one of the modern schools such as the Actors School in New York, and comes to Hollywood. At the beginning of the story he is dead, and all those who touched his life are interviewed. Unlike "The Great Man," who turned out to be a first-class heel, the actor in "Immortal" is much loved.

For a girl who is usually on her dancing toes or at least seen as a comedienne, Leslie Caron has all the dramatics she can handle in "Anna," the picture she stars for J. Arthur Rank in January in London.

With Louis Jourdan opposite her, playing a wicked fortune teller, the plot sounds like a chiller to delight the heart of even Alfred Hitchcock. Leslie portrays a girl who becomes an assistant to a seer after his former aide has died under most mysterious circumstances. Lalo Benedek directs with Sidney Box producing.

Last time Elvis Presley was in town the only ex girl friend he didn't look up was Yvonne Lime. They really must have had a quarrel.

Anyways, Yvonne is shedding no tears. She's too busy working. She has been signed by MGM for the new "Thin Man" episode called "Damone's Dilemma." Her role is that of a fan who has such a crush on Vic Damone (who plays himself) that he has to appeal to private eye Nick Charles for help. Then Yvonne transfers her mad yen to Nick. Sounds cute.

Good to hear this optimistic note from United Artists.

"Baby Face Nelson," which was made for peanuts, is cleaning up. It's one of those sleepers every studio prays for, but seldom succeeds in delivering. I haven't seen the picture yet, so I don't know if it's Mickey Rooney, the star, or the title, which is drawing the crowds. But believe me, U-A is on the band wagon. Every theatre in which the picture has been shown has done big business.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Jeff Chandler leaves his domestic problems behind when he goes to Germany to star in "621," an original for Robert Aldrich.

Chief Judge George Henderson in an opinion filed in Allegany County Circuit Court has ruled that drivers of two vehicles involved in an accident January 19 his machine. No personal injuries were suffered by either driver. Judge Henderson said: "It might be pointed out that this case illustrates the equity of the rule of law that under such circumstances the total loss should be shared equally, rather than that each should bear his own loss. But under our law I have no authority to make any such decision."

The court entered a decree in favor of the defendant in both cases, which in effect makes the case a stalemate.

Judge Henderson heard the case last Monday in Circuit Court and at that time indicated that he was of the opinion both parties had been negligent. But before he rendered a decision he wanted to study some legal points in another case of a similar nature.

Judge Henderson said he is convinced that, applying Section

199 of Article 66½ of the Code, both parties were guilty of negligence and therefore neither party should recover from the other.

Deffinbaugh had asked for damages of approximately $1,600 for about $300 for damages to the insurance firm which carried

Deffinbaugh's collision insurance.

Christmas Basket Plan Formulated In Moorefield

MOOREFIELD—Christmas baskets for needy families will be distributed again in the Moorefield area on Friday, December 20, according to an announcement by Richard Troughton, general chairman and coordinator of the community charitable activity. Sponsored jointly by the Moorefield Lions Club and the Moose Lodge, the gift basket program has been joined by all civic groups, clubs, churches and firms.

In prior years there was considerable duplication in giving the baskets and some needy families were missed when various organizations were working independently. During the past several years the joint activity has been satisfactory, sponsors believe.

Pickup dates for foodstuffs, fruit, candy, clothes, cash and furniture will be on Monday and Tuesday, December 16 and 17. The graded school faculty, assisted by volunteers from civic groups, will pack and classify the baskets for distribution.

The Moose Lodge has a toy project and will collect toys at the Moose home until the distribution date. Moorefield's Civil Air Patrol Squadron will assist in collecting and distributing the baskets.

Troughton requests all persons knowing of needy families to call him at Lehigh 8-2344 and submit the names; also to call him for a pickup of gift goods.

The collection at the union services Thanksgiving Day was turned over to the coordinator for distribution at Christmas. Holbert Saville was named by the Moose Lodge to head the committee for that group in the toy activity.

Business firms, individuals and civic groups will be solicited prior to the distribution date.

Voting Machines To Be Demonstrated

GRANTSVILLE — New voting machines will be demonstrated Saturday, December 14, in the Grantsville fire hall. The Ladies Auxiliary will sell lunch and Christmas candy.

A square dance is also planned beginning at 8 p.m.

Grocery Firm Is Picketed

The C. D. Kenny Division of Consolidated Grocers Corporation was being picketed yesterday by Local 453, Teamsters Union, in a dispute over wages.

C. E. Stutzman, union business agent, said a contract covering 17 drivers and warehousemen expired October 1 and had been extended since that time in an effort to reach a settlement.

Stutzman said the union wants a 20 cents an hour wage hike and an additional five cents an hour for a pension plan for the workers involved. He said the company offered a 10-cent an hour wage increase.

No progress was reported from a meeting held yesterday.

Miner Freed In Murder Of Elderly Man

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 9 (AP)—Joseph Watreas, 29, was freed of murder charges today in the strangling of Alvie Partridge, 81-year-old grocer, last July 29.

President Judge W. Russell Carr, sustaining a defense demur- rer, ruled the Commonwealth had not shown sufficient evidence to support a conviction.

The action came at the end of the first week of the trial.

Watreas, a former Masontown, Pa., coal miner, once lived near the store Partridge operated in that southwestern Pennsylvania mining town. He disappeared from his home shortly after the slaying and was later arrested near Miami, Fla. He told police that although he had a wife living in Masontown he had married Audrey Clark, 23, of Vanderbilt, Pa., at Oakland, Md., and she accompanied him to Florida.

The Commonwealth sought to link Watreas to the Partridge slaying with evidence that wire similar to that used to strangle the aged storekeeper had been found in Watreas' home, and footprints found in the store were similar to those made by tennis shoes owned by Watreas.

Derr Possible Davis Starts Penitentiary Term Today

gubernatorial appointee to fill a vacancy.

Frederick sources close to the mayor said today's development was a trial balloon which might lead to a federal appointment or another spot on the state ticket if Derr decides not to make the race for governor.

Most delegates at today's session appeared eager to dispel any impression they were dissatisfied with the leadership of Gov. McFeldin, who is ineligible for a third straight term. But some said they felt not enough attention had been given to maintaining the party organization in a state where they are outnumbered by Democrats more than 2 to 1 in voter registrations.

Veteran scouts and members of the district advancement committee will be in charge of the training session.

Among the items on the agenda are the Tenderfoot investiture ceremony, headed by George Frick, Scoutmaster of Troop 10, LaVale dramatizations of a board of review and a court of honor by J. L. Towler, chairman, and members of the district advancement committee; insignia design, led by Walter Hutchins, Scoutmaster of Troop 48, Frostburg; merit badge program, headed by James Jones and John Bond, of Frostburg, also members of the advancement committee; and Morse code signaling under the direction of Ray Sine, Scoutmaster of Troop 23, Cumberland.

Mr. Taylor said the Morse code program will be a practice session held before the regular training meeting.

Harrison Lewis, Scoutmaster of Troop 11, LaVale Baptist Church, is in charge of refreshments.

The chairman said this was emphasized by the group's decision to hold no more meetings until after the May 20 primary if there is a contest for the nomination for governor. In the absence of a contest, he added, the district delegates might meet to plan long-range assistance for the party's candidate.

Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, who represents the district, sat in on today's session.

The delegates included Charles McC. Mathias Jr.; Mehrl F. Wachter and E. Hart Etchison, all of Frederick County; Earl H. Bowman, Harold M. Porter, Frank T. Warrenfeltz and Miss Frances M. Berger, Washington County; Walter W. Dawson, Montgomery County; and Ernest B. Treat, James S. Getty, J. Irvin Martin and Edward M. Lewis of Allegany. Garrett was the only county in the 6th District not represented.

Stanley Mansfield Davis, 36, of RFD 1, Watson, W. Va., was sentenced to the Maryland Penitentiary last Saturday for one year after pleading guilty to armed robbery in Allegany County Circuit Court, is scheduled to be taken from the County Jail to the Penitentiary today by Deputy Sheriff Edgar M. Lewis.

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris passed sentence on Davis, who had waived his right to indictment and requested an immediate trial on the charge of armed robbery of the Family Finance Company, North Mechanic Street, where he obtained $153 on November 1. He has been jailed since a couple of hours after the robbery when he was arrested by city police.

Meanwhile, a former resident of Cumberland, John B. Arrison, now living in Pittsburgh, Pa., has received a two-year suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction on a false pretense charge.

Arrison was tried on only one charge last Saturday, although Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty said he had cashed some 15 bogus checks, most of which had been cashed at business places which did not ask for identification.

Chief Judge George Henderson ruled that Arrison would have to make restitution of only half of the money because of what he termed the lax attitude of the business places. He also fined him $200.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Sen. Philip H. Goodman (D-Balti-

5) today urged the Democratic State Central Committee to set up some ground rules which might prevent another bitter primary election.

Goodman proposed formation of a "Board of Political Ethics," which could "air complaints concerning immoral, reckless or ir-ponsible tactics by candidates and condemn and possibly prevent the use of same."

In a letter to T. Barton Harrington, chairman of the central committee, the senator said the Democratic Party has suffered major defeats in the general elections largely because of the "irreparable damage" resulting from bitter primaries.

"Mud slinging, slander and personal vilification," Goodman said,

"had replaced contests based on records, merits and issues."

"The rank and file of the Democratic voters apparently became so thoroughly disgusted and confused that many apparently bolted

the Democratic ranks and voted

Republican."

The state senator said the Republicans, although the minority party in Maryland, "have not had any real primaries" and benefit from the Democratic slugs.

He asked Harrington to call a meeting of state committeemen at the earliest possible time to form an ethics committee of between three and six men.

The group could set up standards, rules and regulations for political morality, Goodman said, and Democratic candidates would then be asked to abide by these rules.

Sentinels Will Battle Cadets In Frederick

Hubs Test Campers, Bruce At LaSalle, 5 Games In PVC

Chester G. Payne will be making his debut as Allegany High School's head basketball coach when the Campers open their season tonight at Hagerstown against Mel Henry's North Hagerstown High School Hubs.

John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh will be starting his thirtieth season as cage mentor when his Fort Hill Sentinels invade Frederick to test Coach Homer Brooks' Frederick High Cadets, defending Maryland Class A and Cumberland Valley Athletic League champions.

LaSalle Plays At Home

And George Geatz's LaSalle Explorers will be striving for their second straight win of the campaign when they tackle Bruce High School of Westerville on SS Peter and Paul court.

The games at Hagerstown and Frederick are the first C.V.A.L. tests for the four quints involved.

Allegany will be playing in the C.V.A.L. for the first time this season. North Hagerstown was runner-up to Frederick last season with a 4-2 record.

Coach Payne announced last night that Allegany's starting lineup will be selected from the following players:

Forwards—Neil Phillips, Glenn Davis, Gary Frisby, Harry Gough and Denny McFarland, Center—Jack Cook, Guards—Gary Shook, Denny Knippenberg, Gerald Horton and Cliff Montgomery.

There are 14 players on the Allegany squad. Phillips and Cook, two holdover lettermen, were elected co-captains yesterday.

Cadets Won Two Titles

Frederick won the league crown with a 5-1 record last season and grabbed off state honors by disposing of Allegany, Wicomico of Salisbury and Montgomery Blair of Silver Spring. The Cadets wound up with a 21-2 record. Fort Hill failed to win a game in six outings in the C.V.A.L.

LaSalle won its opening game of the current season from Valley High, 61-50, and figures to win over Bruce tonight.

Piedmont High's Lions, victorious in two games, my find the going much rougher tonight when Valley High is met on the latter's floor.

Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Beall High School floormen open their season with Keyser High on the latter's court tonight. KHS has dropped a 48-46 decision to the Alumni.

Five PVC Games Listed

Five P. V. C. games appear on tonight's card, namely, Ridgeley at Elk Garden, Capon Bridge at Mathias, Fort Ashby at Wardensville, Circleville at Petersburg and Romney at West Virginia School for the Deaf.

Other games on the first big Tuesday night of the season find the Alumni at Franklin, Northern at Confluence, Oldtown at Paw Paw, Bayard at Parsons, Hyndman at Meyersdale and Berkeley Springs at Musselman. Berkley will be making its initial start of the season.

Ryff Victor At St. Nick

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Frankie Ryff, one-time high-ranking lightweight contender from New York, made a fine comeback tonight by outclassing durable Frankie Ippolito, a Bronx rival, in a bloody 10-round at St. Nicholas Arena. Most important to Ryff was that he didn't suffer any cuts over his eyes.

A noted "bleeder," the 25-year-old Ryff underwent surgery about six months ago to have the scar tissue over his eyes removed.

This was his first outing in eight months and he displayed a snapping left jab and fast left hooks to cut up his toe and rack up the unanimous decision in the telecast scrap.

The officials voted for Ryff this way: Judge Bill Recht, 9-1; Judge Frank Fullam, 8-2, and Referee Barney Felix, 5-4-1. The AP card had Ryff in front, 8-2.

Grand Knights Cut Guards' Lead To Two Games In K.C. Loop

The Grand Knights moved within two games of first place in the Knights of Columbus Bowling League by sweeping three games from the Recorders while the front-running Guards were dropping a pair to the Chancellors last night in Derby Stake's Club Recreation Alley.

The first-half championship race ends next week.

High man for the evening was Jack Loibl of the Grand Knights with 22-56. Other high scorers were: Bernard Tasker, Recorders, 188-513; "Ike" Law, Guards, 170-438, and Tom McGeady, Chancellors, 188-463. Standings:

CAMPERS TO OPEN AT HAGERSTOWN—Coach Chester G. Payne will pick his starting lineup from the nine players pictured above when Allegany High School's Campers open the season tonight at Hagerstown against Coach Mel Henry's North Hagerstown High School Hubs. Payne will be making his debut as Allegany cage mentor, succeeding Gene Shaw.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9—(INS)—Television may rightly boast that it has made millions of new fighters. But most of these are non-paying men and women who couldn't tell a left hook from a right cross.

There is an insatiable demand among these fans for more and more fights and television, ever mindful of the public pulse, strives desperately to meet the demand.

Unfortunately, for one reason or another there simply are not enough good fighters around to stage fights so appealing that a national audience, no matter how ignorant fight wise, will be satisfied.

One of the drawbacks to good fights, televised or not, is the fact that youngsters are rushed into main events long before they are ready. Television fans are forced to see boys in main events who have had only 10 or 12 fights, and it is a rare youngster who has learned enough with so little experience to be worthy of a main event.

You may have seen certain losers brought back several times and wondered why. There could be several reasons, of course, but an important one is that his manager must know "the right people," as they say in the fight racket.

In the old days, a fighter had to learn his trade the hard way. He could fight every week if he cared to do so and had the ability because there were scores of fight clubs operating weekly.

He would have many four-round fights before graduating to the six-rounders and then the 12-rounds.

The Celts are now in a three-way tie with the San Francisco 49ers and Detroit Lions atop the division.

If a three-way tie still exists after next Sunday's final regular season games, the 49ers and Lions will meet Dec. 22 and the Colts will meet the winner here Dec. 29. If Baltimore is involved in a two-way tie, the playoff game will be played here Dec. 22.

Ticket Manager Marx Kaufman said all season-ticket holders may acquire the same seats by applying at the Colt business office.

Tickets will go on sale next Monday and the deadline will be 4 p.m. Dec. 19. Other tickets will go on sale at Memorial Stadium next Monday.

Costs More Than Water

HENRYETTA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Reba Withrow hadn't been fishing for years but the weather was so nice, she decided to take her son to the lake so he could try his luck.

Young Withrow was lucky, and caught a fish but the 5-year-old got tired out pulling it in.

"Hold my rod while I get a drink," the young angler told his mother and ran off.

A minute later, the game warden arrived—and there Mrs. Withrow sat with a rod and no license. The warden didn't believe Mrs. Withrow's story, and gave her a ticket.

Hunters Bag 3,045 Deer In Maryland

BALTIMORE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Maryland deer hunters bagged 3,045 bucks last week in a record six season which topped last year's total by 384.

Only one hunter was killed.

The 3,045 animals brought down by rifle hunters boosted the total kill for the year to 3,647 including 117 bucks and does dropped by bow and arrow hunters during a special season earlier in the fall.

The grand total also includes 368 deer killed at the Army's Aberdeen Proving Ground and the Chemical Center at Edgewood where special seasons continue through this month.

State Game Warden George M. Shields estimates the 1,316 deer killed on the two military reservations last year will be topped by this year's effort which is aimed at thinning the nuisance herds.

Here is the county-by-county breakdown of last week's kill (with last season's rifle slayings in parentheses):

Garrison 698 (671); Allegany 623 (591); Worcester 289 (270); Washington 287 (254); Frederick 268 (239); Dorchester 184 (103); Cecil 159 (149); Harford 95 (84); Kent 87 (8); Wicomico 72 (48); Somerset 55 (38); Baltimore 45 (36); Talbot 39 (13); Charles 34 (16); Caroline 27 (19); Queen Anne 28 (23) and Calvert 23 (9).

Wilson Signs One-Year Pact With Detroit

Precedent Broken By Lions Of NFL

DETROIT, Dec. 9 (AP)—The Detroit Lions broke precedent today by giving Coach George Wilson and his assistants new one-year contracts before the National Football League season ends.

Wilson, who stepped into the job two days before the team's first exhibition game last August when Buddy Parker unexpectedly resigned, got a salary increase and the right to name another assistant coach.

May Name McLean

It is likely he will call on Ray (Scooter) McLean, his long-time friend who now is backfield coach for the Green Bay Packers. The other assistants are Buster Ramsey, Aldo Forte, Bob Nussbaum and Red Cochran.

This is the first time in the 24-year history of the Lions that the board of directors have awarded new contracts to their coaches during the regular season. The directors stuck to another policy, though, by making all the contracts one-year affairs.

Wilson's status and that of his assistants was assured even before the Lions defeated the Cleveland Browns yesterday 20-7 and stayed in the battle for the Western Conference championship.

President Edwin J. Anderson, who made today's announcement at a press conference, earlier in the season expressed satisfaction with their work and indicated that all would be back in 1958.

Anderson said today he liked the way "George picked up the loose reins" after Parker ended a successful career with the Lions by dramatically announcing at the annual "Meet the Lions" banquet that he was quitting.

Wilsom Praised

"Wilson did a solid coaching job and we hope he will be with us for a long time," said Anderson. "Everyone is pleased with the way he has handled the club. He is a gentleman and an outstanding coach."

Wilson was an assistant coach in Detroit for eight seasons before stepping up to the head coaching job. During his playing days in the National Football League he was an outstanding defensive end for the Chicago Bears.

The winners scored 30 field goals to Keyser's 12 and outpointed the visitors at the foul line, four to two. Lineups:

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Bob Baker of Pittsburgh was favored to hand Dick Richardson of Wales another beating in their 10-round match tomorrow night at Harringay Stadium.

Richardson was being groomed for the big time by promoter Jack Solomons until he ran into Cuba's Nino Valdes and America's Willie Pastrano. Valdes stopped the 6-4 Welshman a year ago and Pastrano easily outpointed him in October.

Maryland Cagers Upset Third-Ranked Kentucky, 71-62

Wildcats Lose In Thriller At College Park

Late Rally Gives Terps Third Win; 10,800 See Game

By GORDON BEARD

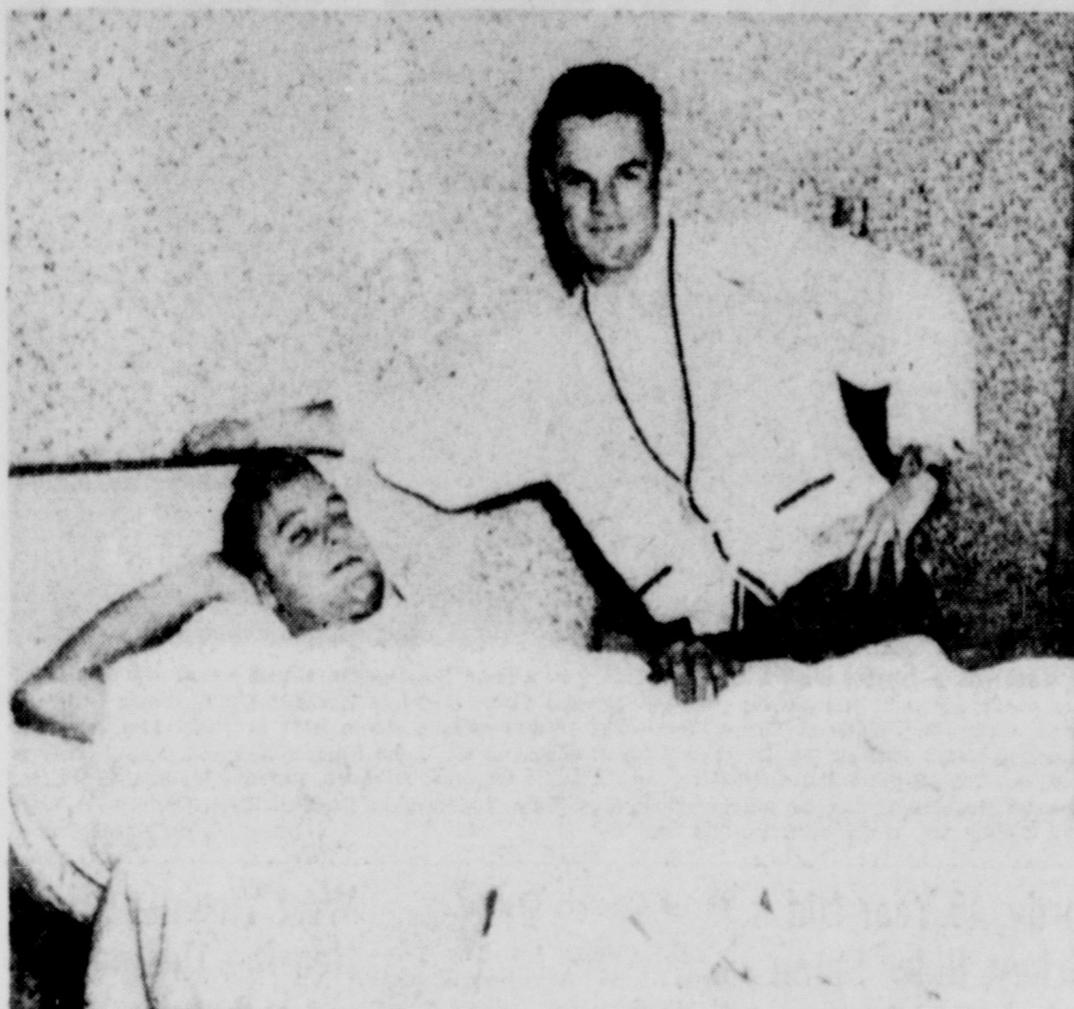

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Dec. 9 (UPI)—Maryland rallied in the last ten minutes with an impressive attack led by John Nacincik and then clamped a defensive ring around previously-unbeaten Kentucky to upset the third-ranked Wildcats 71-62 tonight.

With 9 minutes, 23 seconds remaining, favored Kentucky held their big-lead lead of the game at 59-56.

Bul Maryland tied the score for the 19th time at 56-all and took command for keeps when Nacincik hit a field goal from the circle and followed with a foul shot for a 59-56 lead.

When Kentucky crept to within 51-59, Maryland's 6-8' Al Bunge, who copped 15 rebounds to lead both teams, hit a field goal. Maryland's Tom Young then was fouled after stealing Kentucky's throw-in and he sank two free throws to increase the Terps margin to 65-59.

Maryland went into a freeze after that, twice holding the ball for about a minute. When Kentucky did shoot, the Terps grabbed the rebounds and were successful in holding the Wildcats to eight points in the last nine minutes.

The undefeated Terps won their third straight for a frenzied home crowd of 10,800 who counted off the last 30 seconds when they knew an upset was in the making. Kentucky had opened with victories over powerful Duke, Ohio State and Temple.

Four Jockeys Receive Life Suspensions

Trainer Included For Irregularities On Kentucky Tracks

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 9.—(UPI)—Four jockeys and a trainer were given lifetime suspensions today by the Kentucky State Racing Commission following an investigation of alleged race fixing and other irregularities at Kentucky tracks last season.

The men suspended were identified as Jockeys George Steinman, James C. Ring, Alfred Applebee and Daniel Brice and Trainer Thomas Kenwood.

The commission also announced that it had denied "privileges of all Kentucky tracks to three men—Breck Lutes, Richard Asher and Kenny Bright." The action, in effect, bars the trio from attending races in Kentucky.

The suspension of the jockeys and the trainer is equivalent to barring them from racing altogether, as other states in racing honor action taken by individual commissions.

Don Sturgill, commissioner of public safety, said finding indicated "several instances of race irregularities" at various Kentucky tracks.

Sturgill reported that Ring, one of the jockeys suspended, signed a confession on Sept. 17 "in which he stated that he accepted money to fix races."

Sturgill added that Ring "further stated he passed this money on to various jockeys in order to manipulate races."

The commission also announced that another jockey, Steinman, also signed a statement in which he said he accepted $100 "for the purpose of affecting the outcome" of a race.

The outboard motor was invented by Cameron Waterman of Detroit in 1905.

Women's futures in business are now better than ever.

Secrets Of Charmby John Robert Powers*Personnel Opinion Rates Women Execs High

"You know, John, I don't think her years. It may be necessary there's too much to the idea that women take direction from men more readily than from other women," the personnel officer of a big business organization said to me recently. "We see improvement here in a number of departments after a woman takes charge. In many kinds of work far more than I once believed—women executives can't be beat."

The reason seems to have a lot to do with personality. As I see it, the successful boss lady is more tactful than a man is about getting other people to do things. She sees everyone as an individual, not as a cog in the machine, and makes both this and her appreciation of what the individual does quite clear. This kind of thing does wonders."

"Then you would say that opportunities for executive jobs for women are increasing?" I asked.

"Yes, they are," was the reply. "And I'll go further than that by saying that women are more ready for them every day."

Tact, understanding, appreciation and the ability to show it—all of these can be developed anywhere a woman is, from the time she's a young girl through all

Television and Radioby John Crosby*They'll Be Hunted Down Like Animals

Right at the outset of "Playhouse 90's" "Galvanized Yankee," a filmed Civil War yarn last week, a Confederate prisoner is taken out of the prison-of-war compound and lined up in front of a firing squad.

"Not him!" hollers his brother and fellow prisoner of war (James Whitmore). "He's just a kid!" But they know the kid down anyway. "I'll kill you, Kyper. Somehow!" mutters Whitmore.

Right there I thought we were in for a full evening of movie cliches and, if anything, I underestimated matters. For connoisseurs in this field, this script was a rare jewel.

For instance, the embittered Northern commandant limping along on a game leg doesn't explain his affliction by anything as simple as: "I got a gimpy leg." He says, of course, "I'm only half a man." And the arguments on ethical and practical grounds which bobbed up all the time were always prefaced by: "Now you listen to me!"

Most of the hour and a half was composed of a cross country tour by a mixture of Northern soldiers and their Southern P.O.W.'s. Just before they venture forth on this jaunt, Whitmore says: "When Kyper kills my brother, I swear I'll kill him. I swear it again in front of all of you. Kyper will never get to Laramie alive."

That provides the theme and you connoisseurs could almost write the script from there on in. For instance, the line: "I'm going to get to Laramie, Shay, because I got to prove one thing—that a cripple can be a good soldier." I kept waiting for that line like waiting for a thunderclap and sure enough it came along.

And then there was: "You're not going to get to Laramie, Kyper. The Cheyenne have seen us." And there had to come the moment when the Southern soldiers say: "We don't go one step further unless you give us rifles." That led inevitably to: "If they don't move in thirty seconds, shoot them."

The exchanges between the Northern and Southern leaders contained some really fragrant ones: "We're both soldiers, Shay. We may have different points of view—but we're both soldiers." Then the Northern commandant stiffly telling the Southern P.O.W.: "I want you to help me get the women and children through. I'm not begging for my life, Shay. All I want is your word."—"You've got it."

Right there you know things are drawing to a climax but they are by no means over. There was time yet for this exchange.

"Go ahead and kill me, Shay. I'm not going to crawl."

"You want to die, don't you? You'd rather die than go into Laramie a failure—mission not accomplished."

"Go ahead pull the trigger."

"I don't have to kill you, Kyper. You're already dead."

The Southerners escape: Kyper gets to Laramie alive—in spite of all those dire predictions—and heads for the commander to report the escaped Southerners. "They'll be hunted down like animals," protests the kindly old doctor. So Kyper takes the blame for the commander's failure—mission not accomplished.

Robbers Shoot Tavern Owner

Elmer Grubb, 50, Undergoes Surgery In Garrett Hospital

A 50-year-old tavern operator was shot through the chin and neck during an attempted holdup by two unidentified men last evening near Gorman, on U.S. Route 50.

Elmer Grubb was admitted to Garrett County

Memorial Hospital and underwent surgery last night shortly after the holdup shooting occurred at 7:45 p.m. His condition was listed as "critical."

Sheriff James E. Frantz of Garrett County and Trooper Robert Henline of the Maryland State Police are investigating the shooting.

The sheriff said he was called by the shooting victim's wife and notified State Police of the incident.

Questioned Briefly

The police were able to question Grubb briefly before he underwent surgery, the sheriff stated.

Grubb told Sheriff Frantz that two men, one short and the other tall, entered his establishment, known as the Four Oaks Tavern, and asked for "Cokes."

The proprietor said he went to the rear of the building to get soft drinks and returned to the front of the tavern, where the men were waiting.

When he came through the door, the tavern operator stated, the men had revolvers in their hands. He threw one of the "Coke" bottles at them and the shorter man shot him. Police believe the gun may have been a .32 caliber weapon.

Cradling of the pipes in concrete and the construction of necessary manholes also is included in the contract.

The Mayor and Council included a $37,000 item in the current budget for the relocation of a number of sewers along the Thruway project.

The sewers to be changed are located in three hollows near the former Pen-Mar brick plant and must be moved out of the way of big drainage pipes the contractor will install.

It will also be necessary to strengthen the relocated sewer lines with concrete encasement, since they will be covered with up to 30 feet of fill.

The work will be expedited so the lines are relocated in advance of the Thruway construction. Bids on a 1.9 mile section of the south approach to the Expressway section are expected to be advertised today.

City To Relocate Three Sewers For Thruway

Bids To Be Opened On December 30

The City of Cumberland is planning to relocate portions of three sewers in South Cumberland in preparation for the construction of the Industrial Highway segment of the Cumberland Thruway.

Bids for the relocation of the Mullin Street, Oregon Avenue and Maple Street sewers will be opened by the Mayor and Council at 10 a.m. on December 30.

The project, to be advertised by Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz, this week, will include the laying of 370 feet of 15-inch reinforced concrete pipe and 342 feet of 18-inch pipe.

Cradling of the pipes in concrete and the construction of necessary manholes also is included in the contract.

Hospitalize Van Horn, Says Psychiatrist

TOWSON, Md., Dec. 9 (AP)—Dr. Manfred S. Guttmacher testified today that Robert Jett Van Horn should be committed to a mental hospital "for his own protection."

The psychiatrist, testifying for the defense in Van Horn's murder trial, also said this should be done because the defendant is "potentially dangerous to society."

"I think this man is a very definite suicidal risk," Dr. Guttmacher told the three judges hearing the case without a jury.

Dr. Guttmacher, medical adviser to the Baltimore Supreme Bench, also testified psychiatric examinations indicate that the 53-year-old lumber executive killed his wife "in a retaliatory maneuver that was completely beyond his conscious control."

The psychiatrist said Van Horn had suffered a form of "epileptic seizure" and did not have "sufficient mental capacity" to distinguish right and wrong when his wife was beaten to death.

Dr. Guttmacher was the final witness before court adjourned about 4 p.m. until tomorrow morning.

Earlier today, as the trial entered its second week, a prominent New York neurologist also testified Van Horn could have acted during an "epileptic seizure."

The testimony was contained in a deposition sworn by Dr. H. Houston Merritt, professor of neurology at Columbia University and a consultant to President Eisenhower after his recent stroke.

Dr. Merritt's testimony was admitted as evidence over the strenuous objections of State's Atty. Frank H. Newell III who has demanded a first degree murder verdict. The three-judge court ruled the testimony be "admitted subject to exception."

Van Horn has pleaded innocent to the murder charge on the grounds that he was insane last June 1 when his 54-year-old wife, Bernice Ward Van Horn, was beaten to death.

Overcast Weather Expected To Be Clearing Today

Overcast weather which followed three days of rain in the tri-state area is expected to clear somewhat today with a partly cloudy forecast with temperatures in the 40s.

The rainfall which began about 11:40 a.m. Friday ended shortly before 7:30 a.m. yesterday, dumping a total of 61 inches on the Cumberland area. Highways in some areas were wet but not dangerous.

About a half-inch of snow fell in the section between Frostburg and Keyser's Ridge along Route 40 in Garrett County yesterday morning, but roads were not hazardous, State Police said.

Temperatures ranged between 36 and 38 degrees most of yesterday, said Robert R. Golden, weather observer at Constitution Park.

B&O Acquires Property Used As Brickyard

Tract Needed In Yard Project

A deed for the former Pen-Mar Brick and Supply Company property in Mapleside, which has been sold to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in conjunction with the railroad's $100,000 yard expansion program here, was filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Both turned and fled without obtaining any money, traveling west in an unidentified car. Grubb was unable to furnish much of a description of the pair or the vehicle before police were forced to discontinue the questioning.

The wounded man apparently staggered from his tavern to his home nearby. His wife and children were at home, but did not hear the shot or know that anything was amiss until Grubb stumbled into the house and told his wife to call for help.

He was taken to the hospital in Oakland by ambulance.

Meanwhile, police have put out a 15-state alarm for the two bandits.

Later last night police said they were furnished a partial description of the vehicle used by the two holdup men. It was described as being a late model station wagon, with a cream or tan top, and a carrier.

Area Youth Hurt In Crash

A 19-year-old Lonaconing youth was critically injured and two Midland brothers were hospitalized yesterday morning following a one-car accident near Keyser.

Attaches at Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser earlier yesterday said Lloyd Wayne Smith, Lonaconing, was in "very critical" condition and in an unconscious state. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith of Lonaconing.

The hospital declined to give details on the youth's condition last night and his physician was not available for comment. State Police reported, however, that they had received no report of any change in his condition.

Reported in "fair" condition were Willard Wiland, 20, and Wendell Wiland, 16, sons of Mrs. Beulah McGee of Midland.

Tfc. Robert Dishong of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said the trio was injured shortly after midnight on U.S. Route 220, approximately 500 feet north of Maryland Route 135 at McCole.

Tfc. Dishong said the car driven by Willard Wiland went through the signal at the intersection of Piedmont and Memorial streets in Keyser. A Keyser police car gave chase, but the Maryland vehicle "shot" across Memorial Bridge leading into Maryland.

Police said the auto went out of control on a slight left curve on the Maryland side of the span and ran up an embankment, flipped over and rolled back onto the highway. Smith was pinned in the car.

The Smith youth sustained a fractured skull, lacerations, abrasions and other undetermined injuries.

CUF Agencies Asked To Make New Budgets

Uniformity Needed For Allocations

Agencies affiliated with County United Fund were represented last night at the YMCA at a meeting with the UF steering committee to discuss budget preparation, procedure and other agency fund allocation problems.

Woodward Pealer and William R. Carsaden of the steering committee, and J. Kenneth Morgan, chairman of a budget preparation group, were the spokesmen for the United Fund.

Pealer and Carsaden told the agency representatives that the recent UF campaign was highly successful and more money than the originally estimated goal had been contributed. They stated, however, that preliminary budget requests from affiliated agencies indicate that CUF is about $100,000 short of meeting all these needs.

They added that $50,000 of the subscribed fund has been set aside for non-affiliated health agencies, and offers will be made to them as each attempts to launch an independent campaign.

No Allocations Yet

Agencies were informed that until all budgets have been resubmitted in a uniform fashion on forms which were distributed, no final allocations of funds can be announced. It was pointed out that an effort will be made to meet the current needs of agencies on an emergency basis as each occasion arises.

Mr. Pealer said the new budget forms should be completed and returned to Mr. Morgan not later than December 31. They will then be reviewed by appropriate committees and the executive director of United Fund who will be employed by February 1, he explained.
